

Nov
08

EMPLOYEES BEHAVING BADLY: Risks that Sex Trafficking and Buying Pose

By BEST

Continuing Legal Education
Credit: 2.5 L & L, 0.5 Ethics
*for Washington State Bar Association only

TICKETS

$49 - $135

Early Bird pricing before Nov 1st

CLICK TO REGISTER

This CLE is designed for in-house counsel, attorneys who advise employers and plaintiffs' attorneys.

A shift in law enforcement priorities in Washington state is uncovering a dark world of sex trafficking and exposing employers to new risks. An unexpected number of employees are engaged in crimes including sex trafficking, soliciting prostitution, and sexual exploitation. In addition, these employees are often exposing their employers to serious risk by using their employers' time, property, and resources to commit these crimes.

- 2pm is a peak time for soliciting online
- 13% of calls to solicit sex originate from businesses, according to one study
- 22% of sex buyers report buying sex while traveling for business

Pimps are also using the properties, products, and services of companies to exploit young people. Hotels, condominiums, websites, technology, transportation services, and more are being exposed to risk by this crime.

This CLE is designed for attorneys who advise employers and plaintiff's attorneys.

Attendees will obtain the latest information about sex trafficking as well as knowledge (a) to advise employers about risk exposure and (b) recommend policies and best practices to mitigate risks.

Speakers

- Valiant Richey, King County Prosecuting Attorney's Office
- John Lapham, General Counsel, Rover.com
- Mike Pfau, Partner, Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala
- Sandip Soli, External Counsel, Washington Hospitality Association
- Mar Brettmann, PhD, Executive Director, BEST

DATE AND TIME

Wed, November 8, 2016

1:00 PM – 4:45 PM PST

Registration starts at 12:30 PM

LOCATION

Rover.com

2101 4th Avenue, #400

Seattle 98121

CONTACT

Ngoc Nguyen

ngoc@bestalliance.org

EVENT SPONSORED by

**To receive CLE credit in other states other than Washington, attendees will need to request accreditation according to their state procedure.*